

Finding materials from the John S. Wright Memorial library (the IAS library collection)

Go to the Indiana State Library (ISL) catalog: <http://www.in.gov/library/catalog.htm>. Here you can search all collections at ISL, including the IAS collection. If you would like to limit your search to only materials in the IAS collection, click on ‘See more Evergreen Indiana...’, then “Advanced Search” and this screen will appear:

The screenshot shows the Evergreen Indiana Advanced Search interface. The search input field contains "marine biology". The search filters on the right show "Item Form" set to "Electronic", "Item Type" set to "Books", "Literary Form" set to "Non Fiction", "Language" set to "English", "Audience" set to "Adult", "Bib Level" set to "Monograph/Item", and "Shelving Location" set to "IAS collection".

From here you can use a Search filter to limit to only the IAS collection. You will also need to add one or more Search inputs. Here we’re going to search for items with a subject of “marine biology”. Once you click ‘submit search’ you will get a list of results:

The screenshot shows the search results page for "subject:marine biology". The results table shows four items:

You can narrow your search further by more detailed subjects, relevant authors, etc. Or you can click on a title (it will be hyperlinked) if you found an item of interest:

The screenshot shows the Evergreen Indiana library website interface. At the top, there is a search bar with the text 'subject:marine biology' and a search button. The website header includes the logo for Evergreen Indiana and the text 'Indiana State Library - Indianapolis'. On the left side, there is a navigation menu with options like Home, Advanced Search, My Account, Log in, My Title Results, and My Title Details. Below the menu, there are relevant subjects: Marine biologists, Oceanography, and Marine biology. The main content area displays the record summary for 'Woods Hole notes' by Woods Hole Oceanographic Institution, published in 1969. Below the record summary, there are buttons for Copy Summary, Shelf Browser, and MARC Record. At the bottom, there is a table titled 'View copy information for all libraries' with columns for Library, Callnumber, Copy Location, Actions, Available, Checked out, In process, In transit, Reshelving, On holds shelf, On order, Reference, Mending, and R. The table shows one entry for the Indiana State Library in Indianapolis with 1 available copy.

You can now see more details about the item. If you want to view the item, you can either go to the Indiana State library (ISL) in Indianapolis, or go to your local library to do an interlibrary loan.

Visiting the State library: The library's hours and directions are here: <http://www.in.gov/library/2348.htm>. If you need to copy portions (such as an article) from an IAS collection material, ISL has photocopiers available. If you want to check materials out, you will need an Evergreen library card. If you live in the State of Indiana, you are eligible for this library card: <http://www.in.gov/library/2451.htm>.

Requesting materials through interlibrary loan (ILL): If you cannot visit ISL to borrow materials, items may be borrowed through your local public, academic, or special library. Contact your library for assistance and information on how they perform ILL. They may want to include a note indicating the requesting patron (you) are an IAS member.

Although the IAS library collection is separate from other collections housed at the State library (it is owned by the Indiana Academy of Science), ISL would be considered the "owning" library when an ILL is done through your local library since the materials are housed at ISL.
